A documentary about the internationally acclaimed photographer Duane Michals. McKeesport native Michals discusses his personal and professional lives in this candid look at a man famous for his imaginative and engaging pairing of photographs and words.

(65 minutes; Stephen Selyi/ Mon Valley Education Consortium and Joseph Seamans/WQED-TV, Co-Directors)

"...a labor of love and an important contribution to understanding a figure pivotal to the history of photography."

- Mary Thomas, art critic, The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette (11/12/04)

"The film cleverly integrates interviews, footage of Michals working, his still photos and signature quirky handwriting to create a portrait of the artist -- his biography, philosophies and inspirations -- that is illuminating, deeply personal and visually compelling."

- Heather Mull, Pittsburgh City Paper(11/11/04)
